INICIO

Activity 2: Let's think! Do first impressions matter?

¿Importan las primeras impresiones?

Look at the pictures and check if you have a positive or a negative first impression:

DESARROLLO

Activity 3: How important is the way others see us to define ourselves? Read the following article.

a. Before reading let's check some words that appear in the article.

Puedes buscar las palabras que desconozcas en un diccionario online y escuchar cómo se pronuncian. <https://www.wordreference.com/es/>

Fat Phobia stereotypes stigmatize embarrassing

Do you think the words are positive or negative? why?

b. Look at the title and the photograph. What do you think this story is about?

“Plus size” and “Real woman” the Argentine magazine that unleashes a scandal for referring to the body of Princess Amalia of the Netherlands: a minor.

<https://educacion.tierradelfuego.gob.ar>
<https://aprendoencasa.tdf.gob.ar>

A. The rejections against the weekly were multiplied by reinforcing beauty stereotypes and demonstrating the persistence of fatphobia.

B. The Argentine magazine “Caras” caused a scandal by publishing on its cover a photograph of Queen Maxima of the Netherlands next to her 16-year-old daughter Amalia, in which they underline the weight of the young minor.

C. “Máxima’s eldest daughter proudly shows off her plus-size look,” says the main title of the cover in which both walk hand in hand in a garden.

D. “Amalia, the heir to the throne of the Netherlands, a victim of bullying, faces criticism with strength and the unconditional support of her parents. A princess who lives her adolescence without taboos and defends her figure of ‘real woman’”, adds the cover, that immediately generated a massive rejection on social networks.

E. The central arguments to criticize the magazine were that it refers to the body of a minor, promotes beauty stereotypes that pressure women to be slim, reinforces the fatphobia that is embedded in society and appeals to falsely inclusive concepts such as “plus size”, which emphasize excess weight, and “real women”, since all women are, regardless of what they weigh.

F. Another recurring comment was that obesity is a disease, not a people’s choice, and that there is a need to regulate the contents that stigmatize and promote discrimination in a particular way in minors.

c. Re-read the article and match the main idea to the paragraph. There is an example.

The most important criticism is that it puts pressure on teenagers to be slim and supports the concept of fatphobia.

	A magazine generates a scandal by talking about the weight of a young princess.
	The magazine writers say that the princess received her parents' support for being bullied.
	We should look at obesity as a disease and not as an excuse to discriminate.
	People criticise the magazine for focusing on beauty stereotypes.

Activity 4: Watch and answer.

Do you think the media is related to how we see beauty? Watch the following ads, one by Dove, the soap brand and the other by Axe, the deodorant.

Read these questions. Watch the ads again and write your answers in the corresponding column:

Question	Dove	Axe
What is the main idea of the ad?
How does the ad see women?
How is beauty represented in the ad?
Are the products they sell popular?
What is the ad trying to sell?

CIERRE

Activity 5: Create an ad.

Create a social media ad that reflects your idea on beauty. You can use a web page such as canva.com or your own materials at home. Share your ad with your family and friends and discuss what they think of your ad.
